Q11

Case study. You are aspiring to become an IAS officer and you have cleared various stages and now you have been selected for the personal interview. On the day of the interview, on the way to the venue you saw an accident where a mother and child who happen to be your relatives were badly injured. They needed immediate help. What would you have done in such a situation? Justify your action.

Emergency numbers 112 and 108

National emergency and ambulance numbers to be used at once rather than a long search for a known doctor.

Good Samaritan protection

Supreme Court directions and later government guidelines aim to protect genuine road-accident helpers from unnecessary harassment.

Article 21, Constitution of India

Life and dignity; a future public servant's first exam can be whether those two lives were treated as inconveniences.

UPSC personality test

A scheduled stage with limited discretion for postponement; a candidate may only ask through official channels with evidence, not through a lie.

First aid limits

A lay rescuer stops bleeding and keeps airway and scene safe; hospital care is the goal, not a roadside operation.
