Q10

Case study. In recent times, there has been an increasing concern in India to develop effective civil service ethics, code of conduct, transparency measures, ethics and integrity systems, and anti-corruption agencies. In view of this, there is a need being felt to focus on three specific areas, which are directly relevant to the problems of internalizing integrity and ethics in civil services. These are as follows: Anticipating specific threats to ethical standards and integrity in the civil services, Strengthening the ethical competence of civil servants, and Developing administrative processes and practices which promote ethical values and integrity in civil services. Suggest institutional measures to address the above three issues.

Central Vigilance Commission Act, 2003

Gives the CVC a statutory base for vigilance in Union organisations, including preventive work if it is actually resourced.

Lokpal and Lokayuktas Act, 2013

High independent inquiry into allegations against public functionaries; part of the anti-corruption institutional stack.

Whistle Blowers Protection Act, 2014

A lawful channel to report public-interest wrongdoing; essential if threats are to be anticipated by insiders.

RTI Act, 2005, Section 4

Proactive disclosure that reduces the darkness in which integrity threats grow.

Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration

The principal foundation academy for All India Services, where ethical competence must be taught as a skill, not a slogan.
