Vivekananda on borrowing

He urged Indians to take science and organisation from the world without surrendering spiritual and civilisational self-respect.

Integration of States

Patel's work with V.P. Menon used diplomacy and, where needed, force; the quote matches that mix of conviction and capacity.

Categorical imperative

Kant's test: act only on a maxim you could will as universal law; using a person only as a tool fails it.

Constitutional morality

Ambedkar's reminder that forms must be learned; a borrowed Constitution still needs an Indian habit of obeying it.

Ethic of responsibility

Weber's idea that a political actor must own consequences, not only keep clean hands in intention.
